LIQUOR DEALERS CHIP IN $30,000 TO HELP BOSS POWER OUT.

The Money Part of the Fund Raised to Carry Close Legislative Districts—To be Used in This City to Save the Bosses' Ticket— Saloon-Keepers Told They Will be "Proad" if Follows is Elected.

The liquor dealers of this city have a poprotective and legislative association has a membership of over three nd. There is a central organization connected with it are twenty-four As mbly District associations.

The central body is always represented at any during the winter by a committee, e duty it is to watch legislation affecting heir interests. The Democratic party is in ed as favoring "the enactment of just, se and equitable excise laws," and its ntatives have ever opposed the passage of arbitrary and puritanical laws. For the ast few years, however, the Liquor Dealers' ion has taken an active part in favorng or opposing excise laws.

After the adjournment of the last Legisture, the officers and prominent members of the association held a meeting and deof the association held a meeting and decided to raise a "boodle" of $100,000 for the present campaign. The money was to be spent in six close Senatorial districts and in ten close Assembly districts. All these districts were to be outside of the counties of New York and Kings.

The boodle, it was hoped, would result in giving to the association the balance of power in the Legislature, and thus enable the association to secure the passage of a law that would suit the liquor dealers, or, at least, prevent the enactment of laws against their interest.

The sum of $60,000 was duly raised in this sity by assessment and contribution. A week ago the boodle was to have been distributed for use in the sixteen rural and doubtful Senatorial and Assembly districts. Then a halt was ordered. Boss Power and sx. Mayor Cooper came to the front. They said that the boodle from this source could be used to better advantage in this city. They argued that there were several doubtful Senatorial and Assembly districts south of the Bronx River, and besides it would be 50 the interest of the liquor dealers to elect Col. John R. Fellows District Attorney.

The officers and Campaign Committee of the Liquor-Dealers' Association held a consultation a few days ago, and, after a few minutes' consideration of Boss Power's request, decided to accede to his wishes. It was practically resolved that a boodle should be handed over to Boss Power to help him in his fight againt the election of De Lancey Nicoll. sum of $60,000 was duly raised in this his fight againt the election of De Lancey Nicoll.

The effect was this: Last Wednesday Boss Power and the Finance Committee of the Bosses and the Boodlers were handed $30,000 to be spent for Col. Fellows. The members of the State Committee gave their consent to the transfer, saying that it was useless to attempt to capture the next Legislature. They also thought that the liquor dealers' boodle, if spent in this city for Col. Fellows, would get votes for the State ticket.

Beveral prominent members of the Liquor Dealers' Association are "kicking" over the transfer of the fund they helped to raise. It was their opposition which prevented Boss Power from receiving the entire boodle of $60,000.

A number of brewers have organized for Col. Fellows and are telling their customers that they will be "protected" if Col. Fellows is elected.

Oren M. Beach, the accountant who is investigating the firm's books, says that the indebtedness between the Ivanhoe Company and Vernon Bros. is about $60.000, and Mr. Vernon says that with the exception of about $12,500, he did not authorize the advance of $60,000 made by Scott to the Ivanhoe Company.

At the office of the Lawrenceville Cement Company, of which Scott was President, it is said that his accounts were all right and that he owed the company nothing.

It was sometime past the usual hour when Col. Gebbard arrived. He was about to file the papers in the case with Judge Arnoux when an Evening World reporter saw him.

"Do you know the result of the directors' meeting last night?" asked the reporter.

"No, I do not. I don't care what their action was. The whole affair is outrageous. The face of the matter is that certain gentlemen are using the machinery of the club to gratify personal malace."

"Have you any objection to stating the cause for which your expulsion is sought?"

"Objection? Certainly not. I thought there was no secret of the cause. I did some work for the club about a year ago. My bill was paid, and now they want me to return the money, which I refused to do. Any lawyer in New York will agree with me that the amount was certainly one-third less than would ordinarily be charged. But these papers will tell the story," and the Colonel flourished the complaint in his suit for an injunction and started down stairs.

"Blackmail, sir! Judge Donohue quite agreed with me on the point when I explained the circumstances. It certainly is blackmail, and I shall proceed on those grounds."

One thousand doltars was the amount of the bill that caused thet rouble. The transaction which this amount was paid for involved nearly $500,000. The bill was audited and passed unantimously by the club. Mr. McGill was the gentleman who presented the bill for Col. Gebhard, and, it is charged, who is now making the trouble. Ex-Senator Conkling, Judge Arnoux and Edward Schenck are the counsel retained to try the case for Col. Gebhard.

Thomas Wallace Killed While Trying to Escape from Jail

NEWARE, Nov. 4.-Great excitement exists in Essex County over the shooting of Prisoner Thomas Wallace at Caldwell Penitentiary last night. The affair divides public attention with the election. Wallace had only been sentenced Sept. 15 to one year in the penitentiary for stealing. It was not his first offence. He was nineteen years of age and the leader of a gang of young criminals who have defied the police for several years.

Warden Speer, knowing the man, hesitated to put him to work outdoors and he was kept in his cell. Prior to his sentence he had boasted that he would emulate the example of thieves like Silver, Downing, Kennedy, and effect his escape.

Yesterday he was sent out with a gang and all worked steadily until 5 p. m., when the order to file indoors was given. All the prisoners gathered their tools together and fell in line. Wallace was at the end of the line, and when near the entrance of the jail he rounded and ran, dropping his tools. The keeper did not notice his escape until about three seconds afterwards, as none of the other prisoners gave the alarm.
